

Over 20,000 evacuated in Northern California

Fifteen wildfires raged across Northern California, with the biggest ones scorching the state's famous wine country, killing at least 10 people, and burning over 1,500 homes and businesses, authorities said.

Hospitals evacuated as wildfires spread

At least two hospitals in Northern California evacuated patients as more than 14 wildfires spread across at least 57,000 acres of land, destroying 1,500 structures, officials said.

Wildfires blaze in California's wine country

'This is my neighborhood, in flames'

Homes, hospitals and hotels have been evacuated in California's Napa and Sonoma counties in response to fast-spreading wildfires in the region.

Health official: More than 100 hospitalized

CNN's Dan Simon reports on the wildfires ablaze across California.

Vegas killer was boastful and anxious in 2013

He was a nocturnal creature who gambled all night and slept all day.

Student held after Texas Tech cop shot dead

A Texas Tech University police officer was fatally shot at the police station in Lubbock Monday night, university spokesman Jonathan Seaborn told CNN. "The shooter is still at large and the campus is on lockdown," he said.

Trump says he'd beat Tillerson in an IQ contest

President Donald Trump, scorned by reports that Rex Tillerson called him a "moron" earlier this year, told Forbes in an interview released Tuesday that he has a higher IQ than his secretary of state.

Ivanka Trump urges Congress to act on immigration

Ivanka Trump waded into the immigration debate Monday evening, calling the fate of immigrants who have been covered by the Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals program a "very complicated issue."

10 survivors recount their six hours of hell

Thousands of phones are held aloft, their lights flickering as crowds sing "God Bless America" along with duo Big & Rich.

Texas cop rushes to aid Las Vegas victims

A deputy police chief from Texas ran for his life after a shooter opened fire on a crowd at a Las Vegas music festival. As gunfire was clipping at his heels, he stopped and rescued two people in dire need of help. CNN's Ed Lavandera reports.

Beauty line Glossier has cult following thanks to this

Emily Weiss was writing reviews of beauty products. Then she realized she could create her own.

These tax breaks could be on the chopping block

Reforming the tax code means ditching some of the biggest tax deductions. CNNMoney's

Christine Romans explains what's at stake as President Trump looks to tax reform.

Why selling your car to take Uber is a problem for cities

Gallatin named 'Nicest Place in America' by Reader's Digest

Teen apologizes for hanging noose at school

CNN en Espa ol

Habla espa ol? Visit CNN en Espa ol for all the latest news and updates in Spanish.

Venezuela Fast Facts

Read CNN's Fast Facts on Venezuela and learn more about one of the top oil-producing countries in the world.

Haiti Fast Facts

Read CNN's Fast Facts on Haiti and learn more about the poorest country in the Western Hemisphere.

4 children killed after guard sets fire at day care center in Brazil

At least four children have been killed, and several others injured, after a man torched a day care center in southeastern Brazil on Thursday.

Air France engine parts that fell off mid-flight found in Greenland

Parts of an engine that were lost by an Air France flight en route from Paris to Los Angeles last month have been spotted in Greenland, investigators say.

Chasing 'El Chapo': Prison breaks, hideaways and life on the lam

Joaquin "El Chapo" Guzman's name conjurs up one phrase for an investigator who spent his career trying to catch him: "Evil genius."

America's gun culture vs. the world in 5 charts

The mass shooting in Las Vegas has once again reignited the debate around gun rights in the US. Here's how America's gun culture compares to the rest of the world.

US war veteran's home destroyed in Puerto Rico

Jose Diaz hadn't seen his wife, Lydia Pabon, cry in years. Then Hurricane Maria ripped a massive tree out of the ground and dropped it into their living room.

Suspect charged in Edmonton attacks that injured five

A Somali refugee charged with five counts of attempted murder is accused of striking a police officer in Edmonton, Canada, with a car and later plowing a truck into pedestrians on a busy street, injuring four.

Singer Jason Aldean describes 'horrific' Las Vegas shooting

American country singer Jason Aldean, who was performing when a gunman opened fire on concert-goers in Las Vegas, has described the deadly incident as "beyond horrific."

Air France superjumbo engine failure forces emergency landing in Canada

An Air France flight from Paris to Los Angeles made an emergency landing in Canada on Saturday after one of its engines failed during an Atlantic crossing.

The US Virgin Islands are suffering from the storms, too

The humanitarian crisis in Puerto Rico grips the country, but the destruction from the storms was widespread, and the US Virgin Islands are facing their own lengthy recovery.

Cuba Fast Facts

Read Cuba Fast Facts from CNN and learn more about this communist country located in the Caribbean Sea, approximately 90 miles south of Florida.

Cut off after bridge collapsed, Puerto Ricans cross river with cable

Puerto Ricans in the town of San Lorenzo were forced to ford a river using a cable wire after Hurricane Maria destroyed the bridge connecting it to the rest of the countryside.

See photos from the Caribbean after Hurricane Maria devastated the region.

Mexico earthquake: Search for victims continues

The grim, relentless job of digging through rubble in the search for earthquake victims continued Monday in Mexico.

Firefighter on leave after disturbing posts

Man walks to hospital after stabbing

Controversy continues over Dr. Seuss mural

Kenny Rogers to get Music City star

Study: Parents do have a favorite child

PD: Airbnb unit rigged with hidden cameras

15-year-old faces charges in overdose death

Girl uses birthday to donate to shelter

Build-A-Bear provides 5,000 teddy bears to 4 local hospitals

Critics slam Ditka for oppression claim

Labor Union files charge against Jones

Homeless photographers put out calendar

Man faked cancer donations, bought weed

Hurricane Maria: Puerto Rico officials describe 'apocalyptic' conditions

Days after Hurricane Maria pounded the island of Puerto Rico, killing at least 10 people, authorities are starting to see firsthand the scope of devastation that left the US territory off the grid.

Two new quakes shake southern Mexico, already coping with disasters

Puerto Rico reels as Hurricane Maria turns toward US East Coast

Millions of Puerto Rico residents continue to reel from Hurricane Maria as the National Weather Service says the storm could bring "direct impacts" to the US East Coast in the coming days.

Mexico quake survivor: Floors came down like dominoes

Martin Mendez spent 17 hours trapped beneath the ruins of a six-story building in Mexico City before rescuers pulled him and three others out of the wreckage.

Hurricane Maria eyes Bahamas after Turks and Caicos

Puerto Rico grappled with damages and deaths caused by Hurricane Maria on Friday as the storm hurtled across the Caribbean and slapped the Turks and Caicos Islands.

Mexico earthquake: Searches could last weeks

Hiram Navarro had reasons for hope and despair Friday as rescuers hunted for his brother and dozens of others who were feared to be in a Mexico City office building that collapsed in this week's magnitude-7.1 earthquake.

Mexican town shakes off shock after quake, begins to move forward

Days after a deadly earthquake battered the small market town of Jojutla, collective shock and fear have already given way to the gritty work of cleaning up and moving forward.

Frantic search to contact relatives in Puerto Rico

Those anxious to learn about the fate of their loved ones in Puerto Rico in the aftermath of Hurricane Maria say that waiting for word is the most agonizing part.

See photos from central Mexico, where a magnitude 7.1 earthquake hit on Tuesday, September 19.

Mexico earthquake: Navy apologizes for report of trapped girl

A Mexican navy official has apologized for confusion over reports that a 12-year-old girl was trapped alive after a Mexico City school collapsed in the wake of a magnitude 7.1 earthquake that killed more than 280 people nationwide.

Small town of Jojutla is another face of Mexico's deadly earthquake

The rush of aid and the sense of solidarity that helped lift Mexico City following the deadly earthquake this week have spread outside the Mexican capital.

Watching the search for a missing girl who turned out not to exist

Crowds falling silent outside the Enrique RÃ©bsame school were a sign of hope that someone alive could be heard in the rubble. As the hours passed, the silences became fewer, and the hope faded.

Mexico earthquake: Who are 'Los Topos' volunteer rescuers?

Members of "Los Topos," or the moles, at times emerge from the ruins of collapsed buildings too traumatized to speak. The cries from those entombed in brick and concrete can be haunting.

In Mexico City's worst hit neighborhoods, hopelessness and fear grows

Almost two full days after a 7.1 magnitude earthquake destroyed parts of Mexico City, Carlos Enrique Silva and his family found themselves packing up all their belongings into two white pickup trucks, as an unwanted rain-shower trickled down.