

Roy Moore calls allegations against him 'completely false'

Alabama Republican Senate candidate Roy Moore says the allegations of sexual misconduct against him are "completely false."

CNN en Espa ol

Habla espa ol? Visit CNN en Espa ol for all the latest news and updates in Spanish.

Chasing 'El Chapo': Prison breaks, hideaways and life on the lam

Joaquin "El Chapo" Guzman's name conjurs up one phrase for an investigator who spent his career trying to catch him: "Evil genius."

The unholy excuses of Roy Moore's allies

Almost every religion asks a version of the question, "What would Jesus do?" Buddhists look to the Buddha, Muslims to the Prophet Mohammed, Sikhs to Guru Nanak, observant Jews to Moses, and the list goes on.

Environmentalist's murder not an 'isolated incident'

It was a little before midnight on March 2, 2016, when at least two men kicked in the back door of the home of award-winning environmentalist and activist Berta C aceres in La Esperanza, western Honduras. Moments later, 44-year-old C aceres was shot dead.

Bannon on Moore: Until more evidence, 'I'm standing with him'

Former White House chief strategist Steve Bannon said he is standing by Republican Senate candidate Roy Moore, despite allegations that the Alabama candidate pursued relationships with underage teens several years ago.

Mexican lawmaker's solution to rape: Keep them out with chicken wire

A Mexican politician is being criticized for her tone-deaf approach to tackling sexual assault after she suggested handing out chicken wire to indigenous women as a way to keep out rapists.

Why Roy Moore supporters are standing by him, in their own words

A number of Roy Moore's supporters in his US Senate race in Alabama have variously dismissed or downplayed the reporting in The Washington Post that Moore pursued sexual relationships with teenage girls when he was in his early 30s.

Haiti Fast Facts

Read CNN's Fast Facts on Haiti and learn more about the poorest country in the Western Hemisphere.

Opinion: America, I apologize for the South's hypocrisy

Conservative Christians frequently give their leaders, like Roy Moore, immorality passes because their allegiance to the Republican Party has grown as strong as their allegiance to the church, writes Issac Bailey.

Mueller interviews top White House aide

Venezuela Fast Facts

Read CNN's Fast Facts on Venezuela and learn more about one of the top oil-producing countries in the world.

Rapper's prison sentence draws outrage

Meek Mill was arrested for popping wheelies on his dirt bike and for getting into a fight earlier this year, and now the rapper could spend two to four years in state prison because those arrests violated his probation from a 2008 gun and drug case.

Luiz Inacio Lula da Silva Fast Facts

Read CNN's Fast Facts on the life of Brazil's former president Luiz Inacio Lula da Silva.

Melania Trump: It's an honor to be first lady

In an exclusive interview with CNN's Kate Bennett during a visit to the Great Wall of China, Melania Trump describes her first year as the first lady of the United States

Dilma Rousseff Fast Facts

Read CNN's Fast Facts about Brazilian President Dilma Rousseff.

Melania Trump reflects on the past year

Homeless teen spends birthday helping hurricane victims

He's homeless, but that didn't stop a Puerto Rican teenager from spending his birthday helping fellow victims of Hurricane Maria.

There is a wave of Republicans leaving Congress

Republicans are leaving office at a higher rate than in recent congresses, suggesting Democrats could pick up seats in the 2018 midterm elections. On Thursday it was Virginia Republican Bob Goodlatte, the influential chairman of the House judiciary committee.

Dozens killed in two Afghan mosque attacks

Suicide attackers in Afghanistan killed nearly 60 people at two mosques Friday -- one in the Afghan capital of Kabul and the other in the central province of Ghor.

Why McRib's and Pumpkin Spice Lattes aren't sold year-round

'Tis the season for spicy lattes, fast food turkey sandwiches and pumpkin-flavored everything.

Puerto Ricans tap into potentially unsafe water

A tall chain link fence, shrouded in vines, surrounds an aging water well tucked away in this small town just west of San Juan. A metal sign carries a warning in Spanish to anyone who approaches: "Danger. Do Not Enter."

The end of 'House of Cards' would hammer Baltimore and wipe out 2,000 jobs

Quebec bans face coverings in public services

Quebec's lawmakers passed a bill Wednesday that would require public workers and citizens seeking government services to have their faces uncovered.

World War II veteran still serving others by delivering meals

Venezuelan opposition denounces results of first major vote since violent election

Venezuela's political opposition denounced the results of Sunday's regional elections, after President Nicolas Maduro claimed victory.

Robber shoots woman making bank deposit

Traveling doctors help Puerto Ricans cut off from care

The waves from the Caribbean Sea crash on the shore right beneath the back window of Irma Torres' concrete-walled home in southeast Puerto Rico. Hurricane Maria ripped part of the roof away when it slammed into Yabucoa, Puerto Rico last month.

PD: Man opens fire at police station 'for fun'

4 children killed after guard sets fire at day care center in Brazil

At least four children have been killed, and several others injured, after a man torched a day care center in southeastern Brazil on Thursday.

2 injured after gun discharges at school

Air France engine parts that fell off mid-flight found in Greenland

Parts of an engine that were lost by an Air France flight en route from Paris to Los Angeles last month have been spotted in Greenland, investigators say.

Woman sent to prison for faking cancer

12-year-old girl saves family from fire

8-year-old boy catches 11-foot gator

Private school rallies against racism

Woman charged with burning pet ferret

Eagle Scout earns all 137 merit badges

Disabled man spreads message of accessibility

Hospital uses sound to soothe tiny patients

America's gun culture vs. the world in 5 charts

The mass shooting in Las Vegas has once again reignited the debate around gun rights in the US. Here's how America's gun culture compares to the rest of the world.

US war veteran's home destroyed in Puerto Rico

Jose Diaz hadn't seen his wife, Lydia Pabon, cry in years. Then Hurricane Maria ripped a massive tree out of the ground and dropped it into their living room.

Suspect charged in Edmonton attacks that injured five

A Somali refugee charged with five counts of attempted murder is accused of striking a police officer in Edmonton, Canada, with a car and later plowing a truck into pedestrians on a busy street, injuring four.

Singer Jason Aldean describes 'horrific' Las Vegas shooting

American country singer Jason Aldean, who was performing when a gunman opened fire on concert-goers in Las Vegas, has described the deadly incident as "beyond horrific."

Air France superjumbo engine failure forces emergency landing in Canada

An Air France flight from Paris to Los Angeles made an emergency landing in Canada on Saturday after one of its engines failed during an Atlantic crossing.

The US Virgin Islands are suffering from the storms, too

The humanitarian crisis in Puerto Rico grips the country, but the destruction from the storms was widespread, and the US Virgin Islands are facing their own lengthy recovery.

Cuba Fast Facts

Read Cuba Fast Facts from CNN and learn more about this communist country located in the Caribbean Sea, approximately 90 miles south of Florida.

Cut off after bridge collapsed, Puerto Ricans cross river with cable

Puerto Ricans in the town of San Lorenzo were forced to ford a river using a cable wire after Hurricane Maria destroyed the bridge connecting it to the rest of the countryside.

Man goes from felon to city commissioner

81-year-old shot in the face with a BB gun

Truck, outhouse serve as town post office

Crazy police chase finally ends in pasture

Man accused of touching belly buttons

See photos from the Caribbean after Hurricane Maria devastated the region.

Mexico earthquake: Search for victims continues

The grim, relentless job of digging through rubble in the search for earthquake victims continued Monday in Mexico.

Hurricane Maria: Puerto Rico officials describe 'apocalyptic' conditions

Days after Hurricane Maria pounded the island of Puerto Rico, killing at least 10 people, authorities are starting to see firsthand the scope of devastation that left the US territory off the grid.

Two new quakes shake southern Mexico, already coping with disasters

Puerto Rico reels as Hurricane Maria turns toward US East Coast

Millions of Puerto Rico residents continue to reel from Hurricane Maria as the National Weather Service says the storm could bring "direct impacts" to the US East Coast in the coming days.

Mexico quake survivor: Floors came down like dominoes

Martin Mendez spent 17 hours trapped beneath the ruins of a six-story building in Mexico City before rescuers pulled him and three others out of the wreckage.